

SEPTEMBER 2017 NEWS

The end of summer...and the beginning of a productive autumn season.

Labor Day traditionally signals the end of summer, and the start to a busy fall season. While we at BP Business Solutions hope you and yours have enjoyed every last day of the official summer season, we also are gearing up for a busy autumn. Indicators show that project work will ramp up – and we have a wide variety of business solutions that will help businesses across the region be productive as they get their own business done!

We find the history and back story of Labor Day fascinating. A distinctly American holiday with deep roots, Labor Day is dedicated to the social and economic achievements of American workers, and truly is an annual national tribute to the contributions workers have made to the strength, prosperity, and well-being of the United States of America.

Falling on the first Monday in September, Labor Day first gained governmental recognition through municipal ordinances passed in 1885-6. States then also worked to pass bills to recognize the holiday, and in 1894 Congress passed an act making the first the day official and a legal holiday.

And after the Labor Day holiday, the fall season is in full swing and we will see more and more of our commercial clients involved in construction projects. We have ramped up our construction site service offerings and offer a full array of services so you can ensure your work site has everything you need.

From dumpsters and porta-potties to trailers and fencing, along with any of the heavy equipment that you might need, the BP team can work with you and your team to seamlessly help with the behind the scenes logistics of your job site. Whether you have an expected project time of a day, week, month or even year, BP is here to help.

We get you what you need in an efficient and cost effective way so you and your team can focus on the task at hand.
